High Spirits

The 2001 Kluge Estate New World Red is welcome in any home. Among the Virginia winery's first vintages, Patricia Kluge's Bordeaux-style wine is a blend of Cabernet Franc, Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon. Of special note is the limited-edition Bordeaux-style 2000 New World Red; just 298 bottles were made. It is encased in a special box designed by Lord Linley, made of American walnut with ebony lipping and lined with purple royal flocking. 2001 New World Red, $59.95 per bottle; per case, $710.40. 2000 New World Red Limited Edition (Linley box) $495, or $5,940 for 12. Morrell & Co., 800-969-4637; and Sherry Lehman, 212-838-7500.

Crystal Clear

Paying homage to designs from the 18th and 19th centuries, William Yeoward Crystal offers hand-made, stylish barware and decorative pieces that Noel Coward would envy. The colored barware, in light green, light blue, amber and rose, makes imbibing spirits a pleasure. An exquisite array of tumblers, ice buckets, cocktail glasses, liqueur tumblers and cocktail shakers is available. Shown here, prices range from $160 to $450. 800-818-8484.

Light My Fire

Penhaligon's Lavandula Ornamental Candle, made from fine, soft wax brings out the true herbaceous scent of lavender. Gracing any table or bedroom, the candle's top and base are silver-plated. $65. 870 Madison Ave. 877-736-4254.
