

The Daily Progress

Thursday, April 18, 2008

LIFESTYLES

Garden Week

Kluge Estate opens for annual garden tour

Patricia Kluge once again will invite guests to tour her Albemarle Estate Gardens during the 70th annual Historic Garden Week in Virginia from April 22 to April 24.

The tour will begin at the Albemarle House Conservatory. After a tour, buses will offer a scenic countryside drive through the Albemarle House grounds, bringing visitors to the Herb Garden, Succulent Garden and Woodland Walk at the Kluge Estate Farm Shop.

The tour will be partially conducted by garden and landscape experts Gary Tinder and Edward Vasilich of Stone Crop LLC and partly self-guided with an instructional pamphlet.

Garden Week tickets are available for $10 at Kluge Estate Winery and Vineyard Farm Shop, And George, Kenny Ball Antiques and the Shade Shop and the Store at the Board Head Inn.

For more details, call 954-4895.